RULES

1. The moose must be legally harvested and tagged in the state of Maine, regardless of where the hunter is from.
2. Only the permittee or sub-permittee that harvested and registered the moose is allowed to apply.
3. One shoulder patch and club card is issued per moose harvested, per year.
4. The following officials can certify the dressed weight of the moose: Tagging station attendants, Maine game wardens and state game biologists. If applying for a Maine state record scales must be officially calibrated.
5. A shoulder patch and packet will be awarded to qualifying members.
